PRODUCT BACKGROUNDER

SUNDARA SIGNATURE PRODUCTS COME FROM NATURE TO LIFT YOUR SOUL

Wisconsin Dells, WI – Imagine the delight of Sundara Inn & Spa owners upon discovering an ideal ingredient for the spa’s signature line of products right at the excavation site of the facility. Then to learn that the sand ultimately used as an exfoliating agent in the Sundara Sandstone Body Polish comes from an ancient Cambrian sandstone, the same sandstone as the towering bluffs that flank the Wisconsin River in the area, it became an intriguing story for Sundara staff and guests alike.

When Sundara first broke ground in 2002, the team was amazed at the fine quality of the sand found on the site and its beautiful shades of golds and reds. Handfuls of the sand were literally scooped up and sent off to a number of labs that specialize in development of spa products. Not only was it rich in minerals and deemed a wonderful exfoliating agent, but it set in motion the direction for the entire Sundara line. It was decided that the line would incorporate botanicals and minerals indigenous to the area for an authentic and natural experience. The signature collection, available for purchase and also featured as bath amenities in the spa suites, evolved in 2005, with even greater detail to the natural healing qualities of each product. Here is the Sundara Spa Signature Collection:
